SILVER SHUT OUT.

The closing of the Indian mints to silver by order of the English government is the most important financial act in modern times.

The effect upon our country cannot be foretold. Its first influence will tend to depreciate silver. The present administration will probably take up the suggestion and stop coinage here.

The inevitable result will be the appropriation of the raw metal gold, and the practical elimination of our silver currency. This may produce a financial revolution such as the new world has never seen, as two-thirds of all the money, coin and paper, in the hands of the people is on a silver basis.

SUGGESTED COMMENT.

All the rotten fruit has fallen from the banking tree by this time.

Mr. Downing's fellow Democrats have not removed him from the Penitentiary.

The number of people who smoke two-bit cigars has fallen off sensibly the last 30 days.

When times improve people ought to grow better. But they don't. It is adversity that makes people good.

It is a terrible thing for a community to have a thoroughly mean newspaper to contend with; Pendleton for instance.

The greatest cause of the scarcity of money is—well, we just had it on our tongue to say it—is—well—is its scarcity, you know.

In his Oregon appointments Cleveland evidently believes in taking care of the rich and letting the rich take care of the poor.

Sam L. Simpson of the Astoria Daily Budget almost always expresses himself in poetical language. But then, he can't help that.

The much-mooted question whether it is possible for depositors to lose a cent in a national bank is likely to be settled by the late flurry.

"Ned H. Pell" in the Sunday Statesman is the nom de plume of its genial editor when he allows his keen and amusing sense of humor free flow.

Immense crops, more money in circulation and consequent prosperity means more young men and women sent to our excellent Oregon colleges this fall.

Hank Vaughn, of eastern Oregon, who recently died at a good old age, carried thirteen bullets in his body. Some good man would have died from any one of them.

The special session of congress called by Mr. Cleveland in September next is not going to relieve the business interests of the country. It was not elected for that purpose. It was elected for the very worst purpose, politically—that of perpetuating the Democratic party.

Dan Murphy says Cleveland gave Russell, the Iowa man an office because the private characters of his opponents were so bad. He no doubt feels it to be deplored that those eastern people keep coming to Oregon at all, or if they do come that they should bring a good character.

The Oregonian is sound in its financial view. John Sherman is sound. Cleveland is sound. The National banks are sound. The single standard men are sound. But all this soundness does not prevent the country having a devilish hard time of it and very little confidence in the stability or sufficiency of the present financial system. Yet every man who doubts that is at once branded an infidel. The Republicans think the old war system of finance is infallibly perfect. The Democrats don't know enough about finance to improve upon it.

HOP, HOPS, HOPPER!

Growers Meet at Salem to Discuss Insurance, Lice, Wages, Etc.

There was a large gathering of hop growers at Salem Saturday. It was the first meeting of the season, and assumed the proportion of a Willamette valley convention, although early in the season.

President Groves, of Dallas, called the meeting to order and former directors and officers were chosen again. Mr. Groves thought that the president and secretary should be from Salem or near by and preferred not to serve again on that account as he lived too far away and could not attend to the business. The by-laws were read by the secretary for the benefit of the persons desiring to become members. The treasurer's annual report was read and accepted, showing small balance on hand, about $37 having been expended for printing the by-laws, policies, etc.

The board of directors re-chosen are: W. H. Holmes, W. B. Putnam, Pierce Riggs, M. S. Skiff and A. F. Groves. The following were present at the meeting and the amount of acreage in hops represented by each: D. Craig, Macleay, forty acres; A. F. Groves, Dallas, thirty-three acres; T. P. Riggs, Crowley, seventeen acres; A. P. Maguire, Wheatland, four acres; W. M. and W. P. Putnam, Eola, sixty acres; J. A. Richards, Mehama, sixteen and one-half acres; D. H. Johnston, Mehama, twelve acres; W. D. McGee, Salem, five acres; S. J. Longcor, Salem, six and one-half acres; R. R. Templeton, twenty acres; S. R. Templeton, thirty-four acres; A. C. Haseman, sixteen and one-half acres, Brownsville; T. B. Jones, Wheatland, twenty-seven acres; M. Stuteman, of Harris & Stuteman, Lincoln, thirty acres; Ed. Dove, Eola, four acres; John Speng, Lincoln, seven acres; M. S. Skiff, of Smith & Skiff, seventy-five acres; Alex. McNary, of Salem, twenty-two acres; W. Dunnigan, Silverton, fourteen acres. A total of 600 acres.

Of this list nearly every section of the Willamette valley is represented, growers from Yamhill, Polk, Marion, Linn, and Lane counties.

SOME HOP TALK.

From talks with growers it was learned that lice will undoubtedly be present in large numbers. It was said that three years ago lice were unknown. One grower said he knew of their existence near Salem twelve years ago. He was acquainted with them back East. As they did no damage here he said nothing about it. The lice have still nearly 60 days to get to the front and do a great deal of damage. The value of sunshine as a hop louse deterrent is conceded. Even if they are very thick, the hops will not be discolored by them without damp weather. Moisture turns louse-infected hops dark. They mould and mildew. It was thought that at 50 cts. a box there was still money in hops at 10 cts. a pound. At those prices chances are about equal. Chinese pickers are not encouraged much. Indians are the best and most conscientious. Next year will come in an immense acreage of new fields, and there is talk of many old fields being abandoned and plowed up this fall. Long poles are getting scarce and most of the yards in Polk county are set to short poles and twined each way.

FROM HUBBARD.

Everybody busy this growing weather.

Shirley Buck has a large force at work harvesting his strawberry patch.

Hop vines are doing nicely and no lice yet.

Hubbard can boast of more roses than any other town of its size in Marion county.

J. L. Calvert is having his new house (barn) nicely painted.

E. C. Cross has taken possession of the Ohio House, and should now subscribe for THE DAILY JOURNAL.

The Congregational church is fast assuming shape, and will be a handsome and commodious structure, when completed, which will be about August 1st.

C. Ainsworth has remodelled his house and covered it with drop siding, also putting on new shingles. John Illig is doing the carpenter work.

Nellie Thompson, of Tacoma, Wash., is visiting her uncle, William Thompson.

Mr. Priest is engaged in picking his crop of strawberries, which he is selling at 15 cents per gallon, delivered.

Mrs. Wilkins has gone to join her husband at Vancouver, where they will engage in the hotel business.

Mr. G. J. Wolfer has his mineral bath house fixed up in good shape with hot and cold water shower baths, etc. He has also had his beautiful grove cleared up and is prepared for picnic parties, etc., etc. Mineral water free at the spring where it gushes out pure and cold at the rate of 100 gallons per minute.

Our road supervisor and gang of men have built a new bridge west of town. About five feet higher than the old one; also graded the hills on each side. Good roads and bridges go a long way toward making good towns.

Prof. Chinn got aboard the train en route for the "White City."

Prof. Baker was in town last Sunday. Mrs. Kershaw is still very sick.

Minny Stillwell smiles and says "it's a girl," regulation size and weight. Sometimes we smoke, Minny.

Miss M. Abraham Chalmers says "he got that hat" in Portland.

William Wolfer is building a new house on his farm, near his town.
